The Good Mind - Nurturing Nature: a reciprocal relationship for the Good of Individuals and the Collective. The Nurturing Nature is the nature of the ‘Fravashi’ – that essence of Ahura Mazda in every aspect of Creation.

The Zoroastrian Faith includes timeless time-tested messages that inspire good actions for Happiness and Harmony which encompass all aspects of life including different aspects of Sustainable Development. These principles guide material progress while promoting Mental and Spiritual development at the Collective and Individual levels for the Good of All.

The Good of All - at the Collective and Individual Level is also appreciated as the essence of all Faiths, the UN 17 SDGs, Science and good Governance among other groups of Good Thoughts and Actions.

Previous webinars have formed programmes at the Parliament of the World’s Religions. Recordings available: <https://zoroastrians.net/2021/05/23/webinar-the-good-mind-nurturing-nature/>
